The two best practices of the institution are as follows:

1. To identify the students interest in literature : A forum called “Bhava Sangama” has been formed in our college under chairmanship Dr. Mukund Lamani, Associate Professor, Department of English. This forum exclusively arrange functions to release newly composed poems, anthology of poems, novels and some stories written by our college students. This forum inspires the students who involve in literary creative activities. Ten anthology of poems and two novels written by our college students were released so for under the banner of Bhava Sangama.
2. To motivate the students for the competitive examinations : Majority of the students are coming from the rural areas. They don't know much about the competitive examinations and communication skills. To overcome this problem, our college has adopted its own mechanism. The Creative Response Students Forum headed by Dr. A.R. Yardi, Associate Professor, the department of Marathi and career and counselling cell headed by Dr (Smt.) R. N. Kenchappanavar, Associate Professor, Department of Psychology regularly arrange variety of activities like workshops, seminars, special lectures etc.

Students feedback analysis for the year 2017-18

During the academic year 2017-2018 feedback of 179 students have been selected. 30.2% (54), 19% (34) and 91 (50.8%) belonged to II sem, IV sem and VI semesters respectively. All the students have been selected following simple random sampling method

Knowledge base of teachers : Out of 179 students, 48 % (86), 48.6 % (86) and 2.8% (5) of the total students rated the performance with the rating “very good, good and satisfactory”. And one student has not responded to the question. In KCD a majority of teachers are very qualified. Majority of teachers have M.Phil and Ph.D to their credit. Some have entered the profession with SET and NET qualification. It is because of this fact; students have given positive rating for the knowledge base of their teachers.

Communication skills in terms of comprehensibility and articulation : Communication skill is an essential precondition to become teacher. In KCD rural based students generally study in Kannada medium while a few urban based students opt English as medium of education. Hence, in Karnatak College a teacher is expected to teach in both kannada and English medium This situation prevails not only in our college but also in other colleges as well. 40.8% (73), 45.8 % (82) and 12.8% (23) students out of 179 have rated their teachers with the response very good, good and satisfactory respectively. Only one student said that the communication skill of his teacher is poor in this regard.

Sincerity and commitment of the teachers: Sincerity and commitment in profession is quality of good teacher. 49.7 % (89), 40.8% (73) and 7.3% (13) of students ranked their teachers with the response very good, good and satisfactory respectively. Only 2.2% (4) said that their teachers lack sincerity and commitment. However, it is negligible.

Ability of teachers in generating interest while teaching the subject : A good teacher tries to generate interest among the students. He prepares the lesson plan and uses ICT technology. By way of using reference book he goes beyond prescribed text book. He follows learner centric teaching method. In a survey, 33.5% (60), 43.0% (77) and 18.4% (33) students out of 179 rated their teachers with the responses “very good, good and satisfactory”. 5% (9) of students rated with the response “poor”. According to them their teachers lack ability in generating interest among students. However, the number of such students is very less. Still it can be said that as and when teachers undergo refresher and orientation course they get ability to generate interest among students. The survey also covered some of the teaching assistants and guest lecturers. They are not permitted to undergo RC and OC like permanent teachers. May be because of all these factors Nine students gave negative rating.

Ability of teachers in integrating his teaching with other social issues : In India the social situations are changing very rapidly. There is a lot of controversy regarding the status of women, construction of big dams, Triple talaq, SC/ST Atrocity Act. Rape laws are under the scrutiny. Hence, while teaching a good teacher generally integrates his teaching with these issues. Social science teacher generally needs to update his knowledge in the light of all these on going events. However, ability of teacher in integrating his teaching with other social issues is determined by many factors. First, it is dependent of the academic discipline and second, it is dependent on the ability of teachers. 36.3% (65) 41.3% (74) 19.6 % (35) of the total 179 students rated their teachers with the responses “very good, good and satisfactory”. Among all students IV sem students are more happy about their teachers than the other semester students. Just Five students said their teachers are poor as far as ability to integrate subject matter with other social issue is concerned.

Ability of teachers to integrate course content with other disciplines : The question No 6 is the extension of 5th question in our feedback form. We have asked our students to rate their teachers in term of this attribute. 27.4% (49), 51.4% (92) and 18.4% (33) of the total 179 students rated their teachers with the responses “very good, good and satisfactory”. Once again 5 students said that their teachers are poor in integrating their subject with other disciplines. In sociology, anthropology, political science, economics in fact in all social science there are ample opportunities for integrating their subject with other disciplines. In languages or in humanities there is little scope in this regard. Hence, social science teachers with extensive reading and undergoing Refresher and Orientation Courses can cultivate the quality of integrating subject matter with other disciplines. In our college many teachers are employed on part time basis. They are not supposed to under go any refresher or orientation courses like permanent teachers. Hence, Internal Quality Assurance Cell should arrange RC and OC type courses for the benefit of temporary teachers.

Accessibility and availability of teachers to the students : A question was asked to our students about the availability of teachers outside the classroom. In almost all educational institutions teachers are generally available to the students even after the classes are over. Students approach their teachers to clarify their doubts relating to their competitive examination. Slow learners clarify their doubts relating to the studies. Availability of teachers to the students thus has paramount importance. In our college, majority of teachers are recognized as research guides while some are engaged in active research. In semester system, a lot of time is spent in assessing the internal test papers and evaluation. It is because of this fact accessibility and availability suffers. Hence, a question has been asked to students. 31.3% (56), 44.7% (80) and 19.6% (35) of the teachers rated their teachers with the responses “very good, good, satisfactory”. Eight students are said that their teachers are not available to them. The survey results are generally handed over to the IQAC. The coordinator generally calls the concerned teacher and survey results are made available to the concerned teachers.

Ability of teachers to clarify the doubts and confusions of students : During the studies many doubts and confusions may creep up in the minds of students. It is the duty of every teacher to clarify them in time. Teachers should have this ability. It can be cultivated with hard effort. 48.8% (73),43.00% (77) and 12.3% (22) of students out of 179 rated their teachers with the response “very good, good and satisfactory” respectively. A marginal 3.9% (7) said that their teachers lack this ability.

In the light of 8 questions, we have asked them to give overall impression about their teachers. 46.9% (84),41.9% (75) and 8.9% (16) of the total students gave positive impression of their teachers. They graded their teachers in terms of “very good, good and satisfactory”. Only 4 students (2.2 %) said responded with the response “poor.”
